A rainy Tuesday did not sway residents in Hancock County from voting on election day.

In the Hancock County School Board elections, Larry Seal received 717 votes for District 5 while Chuck Clark received 412. Absentee ballots were still pending at the time of publication.

"I am both humbled and elated by the results of the election," Seal said. "I look forward to progressively serving Hancock County School District 5 in the coming years as a board member. I hope to bring

Longo wins nomination; two new aldermen in Waveland's future

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

There will be at least two new faces on the Waveland Board of Aldermen this year, but there may be some familiar faces remaining.

Voters braved the elements to turn out in force Tuesday for Waveland's primary elections, overwhelmingly choosing incumbent Mayor John "Tommy" Longo as the Democratic candidate for December's general election.

Longo won big in a race many insiders thought would be much closer, earning 680 votes to current Ward 3 Alderman Louie Smolensky's 382 and newcomer Joan Siekmann Coleman's 222.

Longo won by the biggest margin in Ward 1, taking 212 votes to Coleman's 90 and Smolensky's 81; but even defeated Smolensky in his own Ward 3, where Longo took 139 votes to the alderman's 132.

Longo said Tuesday that he himself was surprised by his wide margin of victory, because the recent storms and a train derailment had prevented him from campaigning much during the past few weeks.

"I think it's an acknowledgement of the direction we tried to go in..." Longo said of his victory after the results were read Tuesday night, "and a mandate that the people of Waveland want this to continue. I think it's also a mandate that they want

Bayou Caddy casino opening date now planned for September 2003

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

For those of you who have not ventured down to Bayou Caddy lately, a big surprise is waiting for you. After more than three years of being dockside at Port Bienville, the Northern Belle casino boat arrived at its new home at Bayou Caddy last Thursday. The site is the former home of the Jubilation gambling barge.

The 40,000 square-foot, 245 foot long riverboat is reported to have cost $2 million. It was formerly used as a gambling boat in Ontario, Canada and can accommodate about 1,500 passengers.

Gene McCarlie, president of Phoenix Leisure, a Nevada-based company, told the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday that it looked like the company was on its way in efforts to begin construction on a casino, tentatively named Paradise Bay, at the Bayou Caddy location. McCarlie said that the company expects to begin work on right of ways and the restoration of the boat right away.

McCarlie also said the company

Husband, wife charged with meth precursors

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A Hancock County husband and wife were arrested on Saturday in the Catahoula community in connection with possessing precursors to manufacture crystal methamphetamine and stolen property, according to Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber.

Garber said, "The Narcotics Division had received a search warrant on Road 258 in the Catahoula community, and while searching the home, found large amounts of precursors to manufacture crystal methamphetamine, drug paraphernalia, stolen weapons and outboard."

"Kenny Joe Hoda, 34, and wife, Cathy Hoda, at the address were arrested and charged with possession of precursors to manufacture crystal meth, drug paraphernalia, and stolen property. Both were booked at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility with $10,000 bonds each, bonded out and await a court hearing," Garber's release states.

Weapons confiscated at the residence included two .22 caliber rifles, two 30-30 rifles, 20 gauge shotgun and two SKS rifles. Thus far in checks with the ATF, one of the .22 caliber rifles has been identified as being stolen, Garber reported.

Narcotics Division Director Matt Karl advises that Agent Clifton (Bubba) Malley is in charge of the investigation and is being assisted by Agents Abe Long, Chris Russell, Investigator John Luther and the Special Operations Unit of the Sheriff's Department.

Hancock Deputy Eddie Jennings is working with ATF on the gun identifications, Garber said.

Garber urges any citizen suspecting drug activities in their area to call either the Narcotics Division at 467-1496 or the Sheriff's Office at 467-5101.

"All information is kept strictly confidential," Garber emphasized.

CD's Carbon named county-wide safety coordinator

BY BENNIE
SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Civil Defense Director Lynette Carbon submitted a letter of resignation to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors on Monday. She did not attend the meeting. Carbon will resign the position to move to another position as Safety Coordinator and Inventory Clerk.

The board passed a resolution to advertise for a new civil defense director and for a county Fire Marshall. The two jobs will be combined into one position the board decided on Monday. Until the position is filled, the board requested that Chancery Clerk Tim Kellar represent the board in the 911

Commission.

In other business:

- Ed Wycoff, architect for renovations being done at the Hancock County Court House requested in executive session that a health and safety plan be developed due to toxicology and environmental issues relating to a portion of the crawl space under the building. Some work in the area has been on hold.

- Members of the 911 Commission met with supervisors to discuss implementing a new emergency communication system which would allow emergency workers in Hancock County to be able to communicate with other emergency personnel across the coast, from New Orleans to Mobile.

Representatives from Moses Engineers, who have helped implement the 800 mega hertz trunk communication system in Harrison and Jackson counties, and Orleans and St. Tammany Parishes told the commission that Hancock county is the missing link in emergency communication across the coast.

A system of five towers will link the system. If Hancock County decides to convert to the new system, the representatives said that one new tower would need to be added in the county.

The main benefits of the new technology would be compatibility, reliability and capacity, representatives said. Communication would be possible across jurisdictions, beneficial in many instances such as a high speed chase, or drug busts along the interstate.

Rotary spaghetti dinner set next Thursday

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus
The Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis will hold its annual meatballs and spaghetti fund raiser, Thursday, November 14, at Christ Episcopal Church's Virginia Hall.

Local Chef Tony Trapani, owner of Trapani's Restaurant in Bay St. Louis, is donating his time to prepare the sauce for the fund raiser along with assistance from Rotary Club members.

Cary Trapani, club president, said, "It is great my brother Tony is donating his time to prepare the sauce for the fund raiser. He will be using the Trapani family's Italian recipe."

"This is the Bay Rotary Club's major fund raiser, and it involves the entire membership of the club in helping prepare and serve the meal. Assistance is also given by members of the Bay High Interact Club sponsored by Bay Rotary," added Cary Trapani.

The dinners are for a donation of $6 each.

Bay St. Louis Rotary Club members will serve lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and dinner from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Virginia Hall. Dine in or take-outs will be available. Local delivery will be available for requested multi-orders from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

To pre-order for lunch delivery, call 228-216-1180, Trapani said.

The meal includes meatballs, spaghetti and red gravy. Iced tea and dessert will be available for dine-in's at Virginia Hall.

Advance tickets may be purchased through Rotary members, Bay High Rotary Interact members, or the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Tickets will also be available at the door for lunch and dinner. Proceeds from the spaghetti fund raiser are used by the Bay Rotary Club for many of its community projects. Chartered in 1925, the Bay Rotary Club is in its 77th year.

Bay St. Louis City Council shoots down Southern Regional contract

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Staff Writer

Bay St. Louis city officials are raising a host of questions before signing a new contract with other area governments to reshape the Southern Regional Wastewater Management District.

City Council members are balking at some provisions in proposed pact which has been agreed to by the other major players: Hancock County and Waveland. Still, Bay officials said they generally see the contract as a good move.

"Overall, the contract is a good, solid contract," said Council President Doug Seal.

He added there's concern about some "small discrepancies that need correcting" and "fine tuning."

Aside from some ambiguities in the pending agreement, council members are questioning whether the district should have free reign to spend up to $350,000 at a time for capital improvements without letting the governing bodies involved have say-so.

"There's a lot of concern about them having an open checkbook," said Seal. At-large council member Bill Taylor lowering that cap would keep the district's business in the spotlight. "If it's lower, then you know more about what's going on," he said.

Ward 2 Council member Jim Thriffiley summed up the concerns this way: "We want us to have as much control as we can get and give them as little as possible."

There was confusion over the sheer administrative steps that need to be taken to tackle the problems — council members said they didn't know if Hancock County and Waveland officials actually have signed identical contracts, or if those entities have only voted to accept them. In either case, council questioned how it could forge amendments among all the parties.

Taylor, who had scoured the proposed contract prior to this week's council workshop and formal meeting, had given his fellow council members a memo outlining the deletions and changes he thinks would be appropriate.

And City Attorney John Scafide sided with Taylor on at least one of those points: a paragraph that states Bay St. Louis is "unconditionally obligated" to pay its contracted service payments, whether or not the district renders its sewerage treatment services, and regardless of whether the system is operating.

"I had some grief" with that provision said Scafide. "Surely there's got to be a better way to word it."

As it stands, the wastewater district operates under a pact among the county, Waveland and Bay St. Louis. Among other things, the pending contract shuffles how the member governments are billed for services — a change many say will shift unfair burdens off Bay St. Louis' shoulders.

Yet the major expansions that loom before the district, possibly including construction of sewer collection lines from the Kiln and Pearlinton, have the city officials edgy over details of the contract. Voting membership on the district's board may ultimately include officials from six different government bodies.

If area officials agree that a physical connection should be made from the outlying areas to the Waveland treatment plant, the tab could easily run to $20 million, Bay officials said. Who's responsible for that — and for upgrading the plant to handle additional wastewater — remains unclear to Bay officials.

Council members said instead of calling a meeting among all officials involved, they'll hammer out their own contract proposal in two weeks, and present its ideas to the other governments.

Afghani, a N.C. fugitive, nabbed in Hancock for domestic assault

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

A response to a domestic call on Lower Bay Road Tuesday night resulted in two arrests.

One of those arrested was being sought as a fugitive from Greensborough, N.C., according to Hancock County Chief Investigator Bob Lambert. Lambert said Deputy Lt. Matt Sekinger, Deputy Lamar Jones and Deputy David Garcia responded to a domestic call between boyfriend-girlfriend at the Fun Town Camp Grounds, Lower Bay Road around 10:20 p.m., Tuesday.

"Apparently Abdul Farid Ramzi, 33, and Donna Swint, 51, both with the camp grounds as an address, had gotten into a fight," Investigator Rita Blaize-Watson, who is handling the case, said.

Blaize-Watson continued, "Ramzi, who had no positive identification, was arrested and charged with simple assault, taken to the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility where he was not cooperative. He told girlfriends he was from Greece and an officer that he was from Virginia."

In further checking it was revealed Ramzi was from Afghanistan, and he was also wanted as a fugitive from Greensborough, N.C., involving a robbery and had an extensive criminal history, Lambert said.

Swint was arrested for disorderly conduct and public drunk and bonded out on a $700 bond, Blaize-Watson said.

Ramzi is being held by the Sheriff's Department for Greensborough Police, who report they will file extradition procedures for him, Lambert said.

Tip, smell of marijuana lead to three arrests at Hwy. 603 hotel

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

The strong odor of marijuana use coming from a Highway 603 motel room on Sunday led to the arrest of three on charges of possession of a controlled substance, according to Hancock County Sheriff Steve Garber.

In a news release Garber said, "The Sheriff's Department received a tip from a concerned citizen about possible drug activity at a Waffle's Plus Motel located on Highway 603.

Deputy Lt. Tim Broder, Investigator John Luther and Deputy Danny Gilkerson responded. Upon arrival, they smelled a strong odor of marijuana use from one of the motel's rooms."

"As deputies entered the motel room they found one subject trying to flush narcotics and drug paraphernalia down the bathroom toilet. Deputies arrested Rodney Dedeaux, 32, 4949, Kiln-Delisle Road; Joshua R. Lizana, 26, 249 Leavy Avenue, Pass Christian; and Nicholas Melancer, 22, 3920 C.C. Road, Kiln, and charged them with possession of a controlled substance," Garber added.

Narcotics Division Director Matt Karl is supervising the drug investigation. Garber added, "This case is the result of a concerned citizen, and we urge all citizens to report any suspicious activities to the Hancock County Narcotics Unit at 467-1492, or the Sheriff's Office at 467-5101. All information will be kept confidential."

Cuevas' Quotes

Support the Hawks and the Rocks this Friday

Local high school football teams scheduled to see action Friday night are the Hancock High Hawks and St. Stanislaus Rock-aways.

The Hawks will play host to Oak Grove for their final regular season game.

Hancock has come to life for the past several weeks and stands a possible chance of making the 5-A playoffs with a victory over Oak Grove.

Hancock now sports a 3-3 Region 5-A record and is 6-4 for the season, while Oak Grove is tied for top honors in the Region with a 5-1 record and 9-1 overall.

Several other factors may help to decide if the Hawks make the playoffs.

You can best believe that Hawk head coach Rocky Gaudin will have them ready to give Oak Grove a battle.

St. Stanislaus finished its regular season last Friday in Region 4-A with a 3-3 record and overall 4-6.

The Rocks have had several great games this season, and they are in the playoffs on Friday traveling to South Pike.

South Pike was rated number six in the MS AP Top 20 last week, so they will offer a big challenge to the Rocks.

Best of luck to the Hawks and Rocks on Friday night.

I hope you will be in the stands giving them your support.

On Friday there will be a shotgun start at noon for the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Business & Industry Golf Classic at the Diamondhead Cardinal Course.

I am not sure, but there still may be a space or two available for players. If interested, give the chamber a call at 467-9048.

It's getting close to that time each year when many folks begin to make up Christmas shopping lists for their relatives and friends.

I do know there are a few of you who have probably completed the shopping list and even the shopping.

A good suggestion when shopping is to 'Shop at Home.' This helps the local merchants as well as your neighbors and friends.

Many items are available at area stores, and even if a merchant does not have an item, many will order for you.

Shopping locally also helps your local governments, as a portion of the sales taxes comes back to the community.

I hope each and every one of you will have a great shopping experience during the Christmas season.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church has for years prepared Thanksgiving baskets for deserving families.

Retired Senior Volunteers Program (RSVP) volunteers once again are taking applications for the food baskets.

They will be at the Our Lady of the Gulf Church rectory conference room next to OLG church, Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis, today, Nov. 7, Friday, Nov. 8, Tuesday, Nov. 12, Thursday, Nov. 14 and Friday, Nov. 15, from 9 a.m. until noon.

No applications for Thanksgiving baskets will be taken after Nov. 15.

Mondale, 'honorary' senator from Mississippi

Minnesota Democratic warhorse Walter F. Mondale, pulled from retirement because of the stunning death of a Democratic Senator in his home state to attempt a pivotal new role nationally, is remembered here in Mississippi for playing a unique part in two events that helped shape this state's history in the 20th century.

Mondale, himself once a U.S. Senator from Minnesota, and the nation's vice-president in the Carter Administration, had left the political stage in 1984 after his defeat by Ronald Reagan for president. In the 1990s, Bill Clinton made Mondale ambassador to Japan.

Because an airplane crash a week earlier claimed the life of feisty Minnesota Democratic Sen. Paul Wellstone, Fritz Mondale, at age 74, agreed to a request of the Wellstone family and Minnesota Democrats, to pick up Wellstone's liberal torch and replace him on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Mondale had been standard-bearer, former St. Paul mayor (and former Democrat) Norm Coleman, but came up short.

If he had won, we could have found Walter Mondale's presence impinging on the political landscape of the state of Mississippi. As we know down here, Mississippi's Trent Lott will now regain his powerful spot as Senate Majority Leader.

It's ironic that Minnesota and Mississippi are joined, though separated by the distance of 1200 miles, by the Mississippi River, yet ideologically and politically, are poles apart.

Minnesota, proudly liberal in its politics by its farm-labor tradition, normally has over the years been a reliable Democratic mainstay in national elections. Mississippi, once part of the solidly Democratic South, has since the Reagan Revolution a quarter century ago become fertile ground for Republicans.

Significantly, Mondale was a key player in a 1964 event that marked a milestone along the pathway of Mississippi's transition away from being a loyal Democratic state.

At the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City in August, 1964, Mondale, then the Attorney General of Minnesota and a protégé of the "Happy Warrior," Hubert H. Humphrey, had chaired the convention's credentials committee.

This was at a time when the national party was facing for the first time the emergence of a black Democratic move to crack the ranks of traditionally all-white Southern state Democratic parties.

Mississippi, which had been swept by racial turmoil that year, took center stage in the black Democratic rebellion.

The state's all-white "regular" Democratic delegation sent to Atlantic City by Gov. Paul B. Johnson, Jr. was challenged by a somewhat ragtag black-white "Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party" delegation that included some black farmers who had never been beyond the state borders.

Principally it included Delta tenant-farmer-turned-activist, Fannie Lou Hamer.

Several in the MFDP ranks were civil rights workers who only weeks before took prominent parts in the Mississippi "Freedom Summer" that had drawn national attention, marked by the slaying of three young civil rights workers and a massive FBI hunt for their slayers.

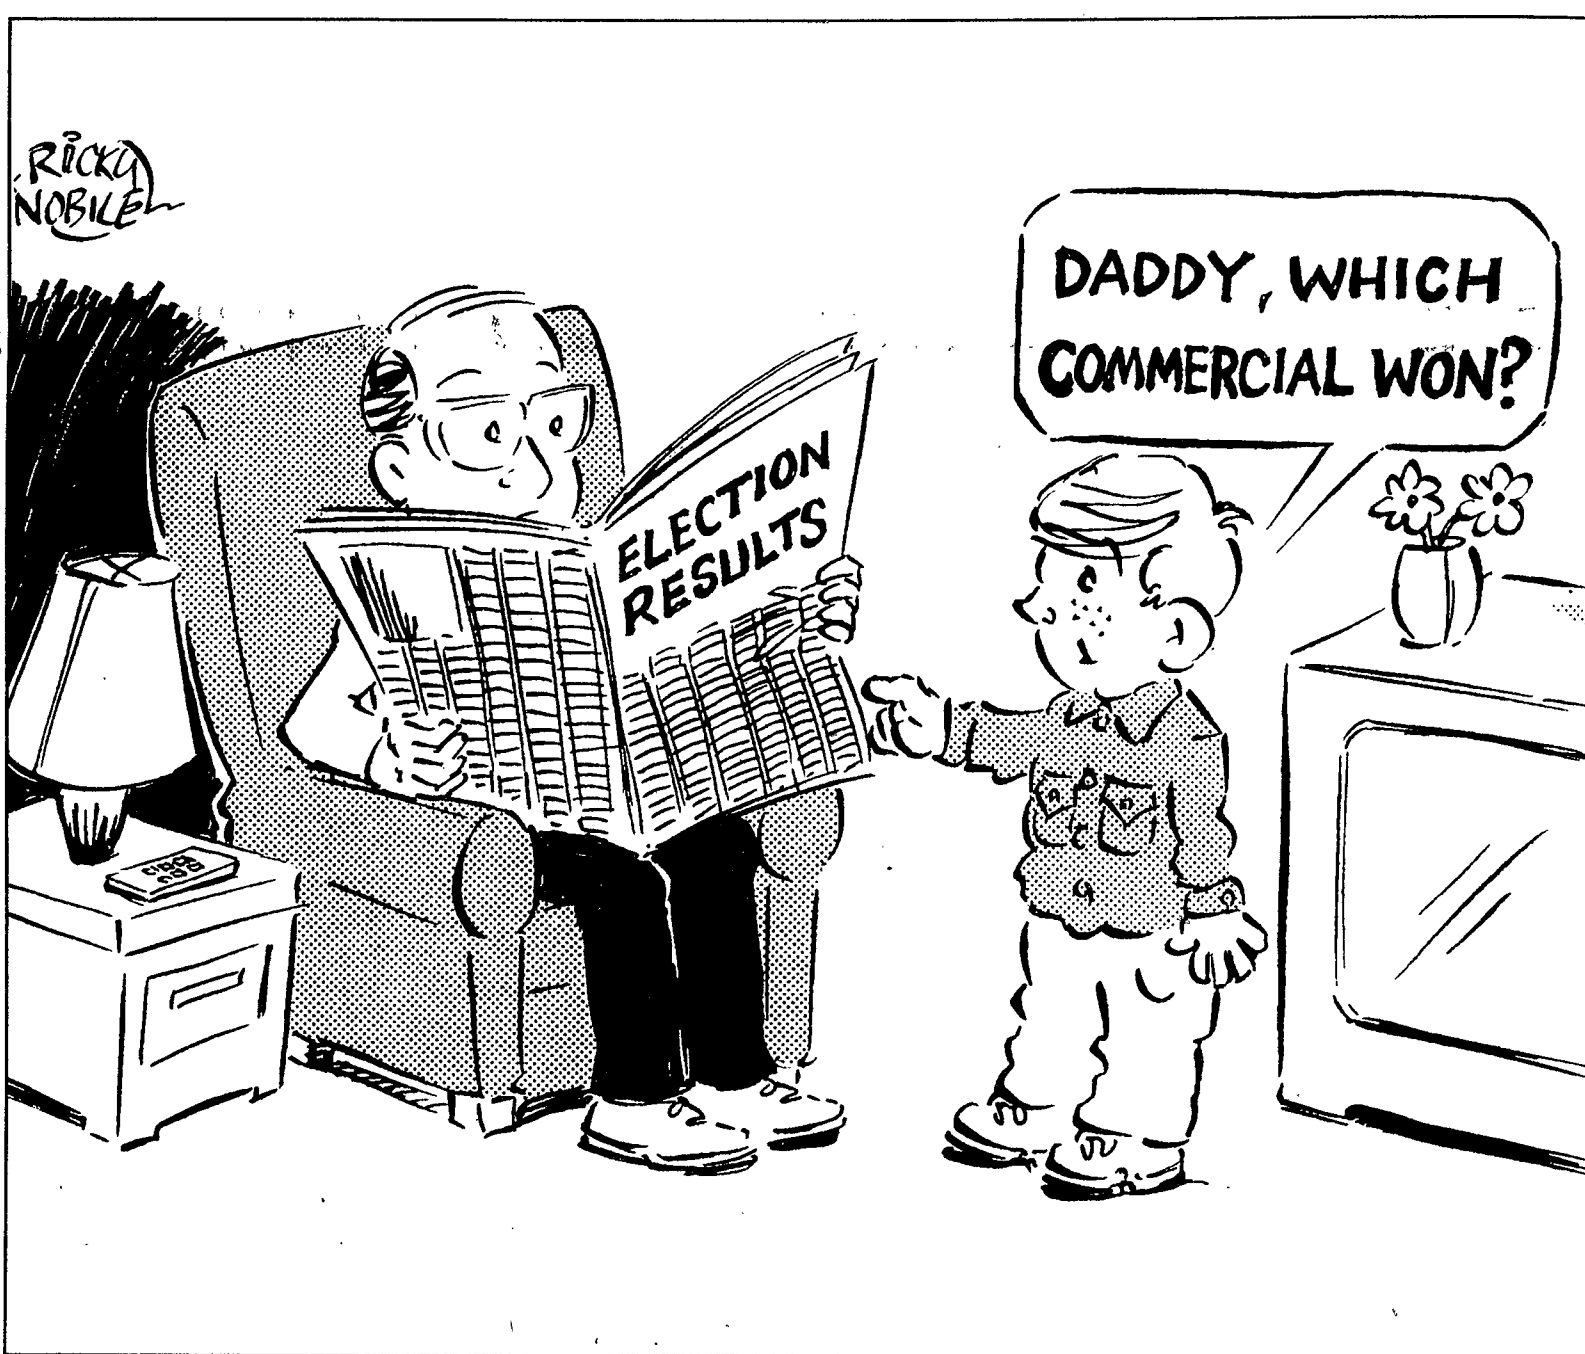

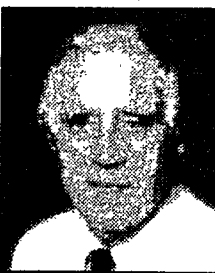

Sensing that Mississippi could become an explosive test case at the National Convention, I had persuaded my paper, the New Orleans Times-Picayune, to send me to cover it.

Moved by Fannie Lou Hamer's powerful testimony on network television before

Cruisin' was an outstanding success

To the Editor:
I just wanted to take this opportunity to thank the hundreds of volunteers, especially the Car Club members who have made Cruisin' The Coast such an outstanding success.

As you know, this event is in its seventh year, and we had record registration of 5,208. This year two very important milestones that were reached was to expand the venue to a three-county area and to reach the 5,000 participant level.

Tropical Storm Isidore and Hurricane Lily required a lot of contingency planning which thankfully we did not need to implement.

I especially wanted to thank all of those wonderful cruisers who came to our Gulf Coast area to enjoy our Southern hospitality. Without them, we could not have had this event.

If you had the opportunity to cruise the Mississippi Gulf Coast on Friday or Saturday night and see the thousands of people lined up in front of the mom and pop hotels looking at the cars on Hwy. 90, it was truly a sight to behold.

Record numbers were set at every venue, and I believe that this is one of several events, such as Mardi Gras, which truly does make us a destination resort.

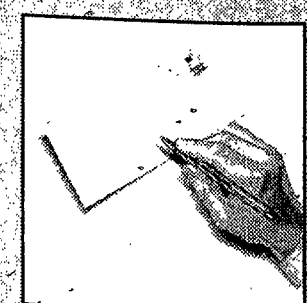

For all of you who participated and to all of those who helped, thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Chevis C. Swetman
Chairman

Letters to the Editor

Our letters policy

The Sea Coast Echo welcomes comments from its readers. Letters must be signed and include address or telephone number. Letters should be brief, preferably typewritten and double-spaced. ## Technicalities

Q Should a defendant in court be charged state assessments when convicted of failing to have liability insurance as required by Section 63-15-4?

A Yes. There is no exemption to assessments on this charge. Section 99-19-73 (1) imposes a "Traffic Violation" assessment of $ 30.00 and Section 37-26-9 (4) imposes a "Court Constituents Assessment" of $50 if the fine is $ 10 or more.

Minor -- Mondale in Mississippi

his credentials committee, Mondale announced that two members of the Freedom delegation would be seated as delegates-at-large by the convention and that the Regulars would have to take a mildly worded "loyalty" oath.

Mondale personally urged the Regular delegates not to bolt the convention. However, before the delegates could digest the credentials committee finding, Governor Johnson announced in Jackson that the Regulars were coming home.

All did except for four delegates, who became the only occupants of the three dozen seats assigned to Mississippi on the convention floor.

Amid reports that black activists in the MFDP group would storm onto the convention floor to occupy Mississippi's vacant chairs, Secret Service and FBI agents were ordered (as learned later) by President Lyndon Johnson to patrol the area around the Mississippi seats.

Again, in 1970, after state and city law enforcement officers riddled a girls dormitory at Jackson State College (later University) with gunfire, wounding a dozen students and leaving two young blacks dead, Mondale, then a U.S. Senator from Minnesota, came down to hear angry students and city representatives voice their views about what went wrong.

Fourteen years later, when he was running for president, Mondale, knowing there was virtually no chance for him to carry Mississippi against Ronald Reagan, made a brief campaign stop in Jackson. I had an opportunity to ride out to the airport in the car with him.

Though not quite the ebullient "Happy Warrior" his mentor, Hubert Humphrey was, Mondale was optimistically upbeat and had nothing but praise for the integrity of his former Senate colleague from Mississippi, John C. Stennis.

Unknown to most Mississippians, there was another Mondale, namely Joan Mondale, Fritz' wife, who was held in high esteem by Mississippians engaged in the arts and crafts community for her special interest and help to them, totally removed from the world of politics.

Without the press knowing about it, Joan Mondale made several trips to Jackson to talk with groups to boost their arts work, and visit the arts and crafts center on the Natchez Trace Parkway, recalls Dan Overly, retired director of the Craftsman's Guild of Mississippi.

"Sometimes when we needed help in Washington and weren't able to get our own Senators interested, through Joan Mondale we were able to get Walter Mondale to help us," Overly said.

"We used to call him our 'honorary' Senator from Mississippi," he added.

Oceans 2002

NASA's Dr. Richard Miller, chief scientist of the Earth Science Applications Directorate at Stennis Space Center, discusses the directorate's exhibit at the OCEANS 2002 conference with DeNeice Guest, a senior remote sensing scientist with Lockheed Martin Space Operations, also at Stennis. The conference, co-sponsored each fall by the Marine Technology Society and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, is an assembly of the ocean and marine community featuring technical sessions, workshops, student poster sessions, job fairs, tutorials and a large, dynamic exhibit. This year's conference, Marine Frontiers: Reflections of the Past, Visions of the Future, was held Oct. 29-31 in Biloxi.

Conservation, development workshop

The Southeast Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council, Inc. has received a grant from the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality to inform officials on how pre-planning future developments may reduce storm water runoff and minimize vegetative disturbances.

The Mississippi Coastal Plains RC&D Council has agreed to assist with the coastal workshops.

Normally, such a workshop would cost several hundred dollars, but the Southeast Mississippi RC&D Council is offering the workshop free of charge. There is one drawback, however - seating is limited.

The Bay St. Louis workshop will take place on Thursday, Nov. 14 at the Coast Electric Power Association from 8 a.m. until 12 p.m.

"I urge anyone who has an interest in preserving Mississippi's green areas and clear streams to seriously consider attending one of these workshops," said a member of the Mississippi Coastal Plains RC&D Council representing Hancock County.

To reserve a seat or to receive a brochure detailing the workshop, contact Joe Doss or Debbie Reynolds with the Southeast Mississippi RC&D Area Office at 601-296-1187 or toll free at 1-888-645-1187 by Nov. 13.

Courtney Thomas, left, occupational network coordinator for Hancock Medical Center; Geneva Mitchell, October Youth of the Month; and Stan Partridge, assistant principal for Bay High School.

The Exchange Club of Hancock County has selected Geneva Mitchell as their Youth of the Month for October 2002.

Geneva is the daughter of Bessie Wilson and Melvin Galloway of Bay St. Louis.

The club presented the award to Geneva during their weekly meeting on October 17. Hancock Medical Center was the sponsor for the October Youth of the Month and presented Geneva with a $50 Savings Bond.

As a senior at Bay High School, she presides as student council president, National Honor Society vice president, SADD secretary, Who's Who Among High School Students, National Honor Roll, homecoming court, captain of the Tiger Pride Guard and currently reigns as Miss Bay High.

She has received numerous honors and awards throughout her years at Bay High School and is a member of the Junior Daughters of St. Peter Claver and an Alpha Honor Roll student.

Each month, nearly 1,000 Exchange Clubs throughout the United States and Puerto Rico honor a young man or woman as their club's Youth of the Month.

The students who receive this award have shown academic and leadership excellence. These outstanding youths go on to compete for the Hancock County Exchange Club Youth of the Year, District Youth of the Year, and ultimately the National Youth of the Year Award.

The National Exchange Club is a group of men and women working to make America a better place to live through one national project, the Prevention of Child Abuse, and other community service projects. Our goal is to become the premier service club in America by igniting the spirit of community service throughout the nation.

The Hancock County Exchange Club meets every Thursday at Noon at Casino Magic's Bridges Golf Resort.

Space Shuttle Main Engine firing at Stennis to be shown live on Internet

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The public is invited to experience "virtually" the shake, rattle and roar of a night test of a Space Shuttle Main Engine (SSME) at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center.

For the first time ever, the public can view an engine test at Stennis live on the Internet. The spectacular test is scheduled for ignition at 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 8, and those wishing to see the test online may log on to <http://www.ssc.nasa.gov> Friday, beginning at 5:30 p.m., and click on the scrolling link.

Stennis Space Center is NASA's proving ground for all Space Shuttle Main Engines and plays an integral role in testing component and propulsion systems for the future.

The Nov. 8 test, scheduled to last approximately 520 seconds, will be a demonstrated reliability test for the Block II Space

New photo gallery, studio to open soon

Allen Hamilton, a lifelong resident of Louisiana and Mississippi, has been in photography professionally since he got out of the U.S. Navy in 1971.

After working for a few commercial studios in New Orleans in the early 70s, he opened Orleans Photography in 1976 before selling it in 1981.

Hamilton and his wife, Rhonda, fell in love with Bay St. Louis after spending some time here.

"We immediately got along with the people, and I realized that the history, culture and architecture would permit some wonderful opportunities for portraits and scenic work," he said.

Hamilton will soon open Bayview Studio at 121 Court Street where he plans to offer a complete line of photographic services, including portraits of people and pets, sports, special events, passport photos and digital restorations. His studio will also custom black and white and digital photo finishing.

For more information, call 467-3552.

USMGC Port Symposium looking ahead to year 2003

Buoyed by a strong turnout, organizers of the University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Coast's Port Symposium 2002 are already looking forward to 2003.

Nearly 200 participants at the two-day conference heard from a variety of shipping and port experts last week at Grand Casino-Oasis in Gulfport. Presentations were made on a wide range of topics, from port security to trade with Latin America and Cuba.

"It is legal to do business in Cuba and you should do business in Cuba," said Michael Hopkins, vice president and general manager of the Latin America division of Crowley Liner Services, who spoke on the topic "Forming New Trade Alliances."

Hopkins spoke on preparing for a post-embargo Cuba, during the first day of the symposium, which had a theme of "Emerging Trends and Strategies in Maritime Economic Development."

"In order to do business in Cuba, there are a few things to keep in mind," said Hopkins, talking to local, national and international port and economic officials. "Make sure you make legal trips that are meaningful -- to better understand Cuban people and their perceptions of your culture. My company when traveling to Cuba, found that Americans had misconceptions of Cubans, as Cubans did as well."

The symposium, which is in its third year, was sponsored by the International Port School at USMGC and the Mississippi State Port Authority at Gulfport.

Other participating agencies include the Mississippi Coast Foreign Trade Zone Inc., the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources, the Mississippi Department of Transportation and the Harrison County Tourism Commission.

"This was a very successful port symposium," said Melody Bradley-Moeller, director of the USMGC International Port School. "We are very pleased with the number of people in attendance. We had a solid increase for the second year in a row."

Bradley-Moeller said organizers will soon begin focusing on next year's conference.

"We are already beginning to make plans for next year," she said. "We will begin by exploring options for themes, reviewing assessments and, as always, striving to make Port Symposium 2003 the most educational and informative offering yet."

For more information on the symposium and USMGC's International Port School, contact Bradley-Moeller at (228) 867-8779 or log on to symposium.mississippi.com.

Bradford-O'Keefe Funeral Homes receives Pursuit of Excellence award

Bradford-O'Keefe Funeral Homes received the 2002 National Funeral Directors Association (NFDA) Pursuit of Excellence Achievement award.

This mark of excellence honors firms for their outstanding community service, professional integrity and dynamic public relations programs.

Bradford-O'Keefe Funeral Homes received the Achievement Award at the NFDA's 121st annual Convention and Expo on Oct. 21 in San Antonio, Texas.

To achieve recognition in the Pursuit of Excellence program, a funeral home must meet quality service criteria in nine categories of achievement.

The categories include education, compassionate service, technical skills, community and professional service, library or media resources, professional development, in-house staff training, and public and community relations.

Bradford-O'Keefe is the only funeral home in south Mississippi to receive this prestigious award and one of only two funeral homes in Mississippi to receive it. Currently, less than 2 percent of all funeral homes across the United States have been honored with this distinction.

The O'Keefe Family has six generations of community service to Gulf Coast families beginning in 1865 when Edward O'Keefe began the family funeral business. 137 years later, the Bradford-O'Keefe tradition of service and help during difficult times is still an integral part of Gulf Coast life today.

Bradford-O'Keefe now has four funeral homes, two cemeteries and Mississippi's first and oldest operating crematory serving the Gulf Coast.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

By profession, Betty Ruth Hawkins is more writer than photographer. As editor of the Lagniappe, the monthly newsletter for Stennis Space Center, Hawkins shoots photographs to illustrate press releases or depict news events.

The photos in her upcoming exhibit, "Catch My Eye," scheduled for Nov. 9, 6:30 p.m. at the Bay St. Louis Depot, are more than a step or two removed from the daily news, conveying what the artist felt when she shot the photo more than what she saw. They are photos Hawkins shot, as she says, "for no real reason - except that the moment or the person or the time just caught my eye."

Hawkins' work is catching a lot of eyes lately. Barbara Carnal, president of the Hope Cottage of the Lowcountry in South Carolina, recently chose Hawkins as the artist to create all of the materials associated with an awareness campaign and fundraiser for Hope Cottage, a three-county children's advocacy center and rape crisis center headquartered in Beaufort, S.C.

Carnal first saw one of Hawkins' photos on a note card from a 1995 exhibit that featured Hawkins' work. Hawkins' photos had been the basis for a fundraiser for the Mississippi Children's Advocacy Center in Jackson. Carnal located Hawkins through colleagues on the Coast and asked Hawkins to do the Hope Cottage exhibit. Hawkins will shoot the photos and compose narratives for the images as the foundation for the campaign, which is scheduled for spring 2003.

DARK(ROOM) BEGINNINGS

Hawkins recalls growing up in a family whose members had their own ideas about photography.

"I remember it being an ordeal of the fifth order for my father to shoot photos," said Hawkins. "He was very much transfixed with F-stops, shutter speeds, sunlight - particularly sunlight. He believed in having his subjects facing into the sun. Every picture, portrait and snapshot of my youth is a contrasty image of me squinting crying into the sunshine. (My children wanted to know when my face got over being deformed. I told them it was a passing thing made better by the eventual evolution of the flash bulb.)"

Hawkins' "Girl With the Masters."

Hawkins' mother used a Polaroid, her method ritualistic and governed by superstition. Recalls Hawkins: "She'd keep the film packs in a dark canvas bag inside her purse. Once she shot the photo, she'd rip, first the protective strip, and then, the film out of the camera in a downward gesture, being certain to hold the camera still."

"She never held the film while she counted down the development. She laid it immediately on a flat surface. Holding it, you see, caused the chemical reaction to be uneven. Once she delicately removed the backing from the print, she waved it in the air mightily to speed the rest of the developing process. Wiping the final print with the fixer-filled sponge was the part she never allowed anyone else to do. She knew just how much pressure to put in the image to seal it just right. She captured some of my most favorite memories in those instant prints. (My kids have more fun with the ones my dad shot.)"

Hawkins brother was a professional photographer who approached the process of taking pictures in a technical way.

"For my brother, a photo's value was in its sharpness, its color balance, its usefulness," said Hawkins. "You could describe his work as creatively utilitarian. He shot only for clients. If the photograph did not meet the customer's requirements, then it wasn't worth taking. He shunned those who called themselves photographic artists."

Hawkins first entered the darkroom as a teenager in the late 1960s, developing X-ray film at the Madison County Hospital.

"I learned to mix chemicals and manage the temperatures. I was fascinated with watching an image appear. I always rubbed it," she said.

Hawkins shot her first artistic photograph in the fall of 1971.

It was a black-and-white photograph of an oyster mushroom, and she brought it home from college to show her family.

Quarter Moon Gallery reopens after recent blaze

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Quarter Moon Gallery will be hosting a special show to celebrate its reopening and restoration after a fire earlier this month. "Phoenix from the Fire - Rebirth and Renewal," will feature work by over thirty artists from the region in an unprecedented multi-media show. The opening will take place during the 2nd Saturday Artwalk in Bay St. Louis on November 9th.

Quarter Moon Gallery has been in business for 16 years, relocating from the French Quarter to the Bay six years ago. It had recently expanded, doubling the size of its display area less than one week before the blaze. Although one room and several pieces of art were destroyed, the local art community has rallied to help in the rebuilding process. The gallery anticipates all repairs to be completed by 2nd Saturday and will use the newly refurbished space to exhibit the show.

Works will include paintings, sculpture, photography, pottery, fiber and jewelry by some of the region's finest craftspeople and artists. All of the pieces will revolve around the idea of the myth of the phoenix, the bird that is consumed by flames, only to emerge reborn and strengthened by the process.

Ellis Anderson, jeweler and owner of the gallery, came up with the idea of doing a phoenix show the day after the fire. "I was literally sifting there in the ashes," she said, "feeling sorry for myself. I was supposed to be the featured artist for the November 2nd Saturday, but knew that I'd have to spend the month rebuilding instead of making jewelry. Then the image of a phoenix rising from the ashes popped into my head. It made me smile again."

Within days, Anderson had designed and created a large phoenix pendant from sterling silver and 18k gold. But she was still left with the problem of not having the time to make more pieces for the show slated to open on November 9th.

Artist and friend Vicki Niolet came up with the answer. She suggested that various local artists might be willing to create one phoenix piece to display in the show. Anderson loved the idea and apparently the artists did as well. Within days, over thirty people had committed to making a piece for the show.

"It's truly a miracle,"

Anderson said. "When you think of all those really busy people making time in their schedules to come to the gallery's rescue, it's utterly unbelievable."

Vicki Niolet, who is also president of the Old Town Merchant's Association, agreed. "This event is a perfect opportunity to show how well the merchants and artists can work together as a community. It's an example of how we can all pull together. That's the sort of spirit that makes the Bay such an extraordinary place."

Tally Johnson, a local ceramics artist and teacher, explained how the show illustrates the strong bond that exists between artists in Bay St. Louis. "There's a healthy solidarity here, a feeling of kinship. It's surprising that so many artists were able to respond so quickly. Everyone was willing to jump right in and help out."

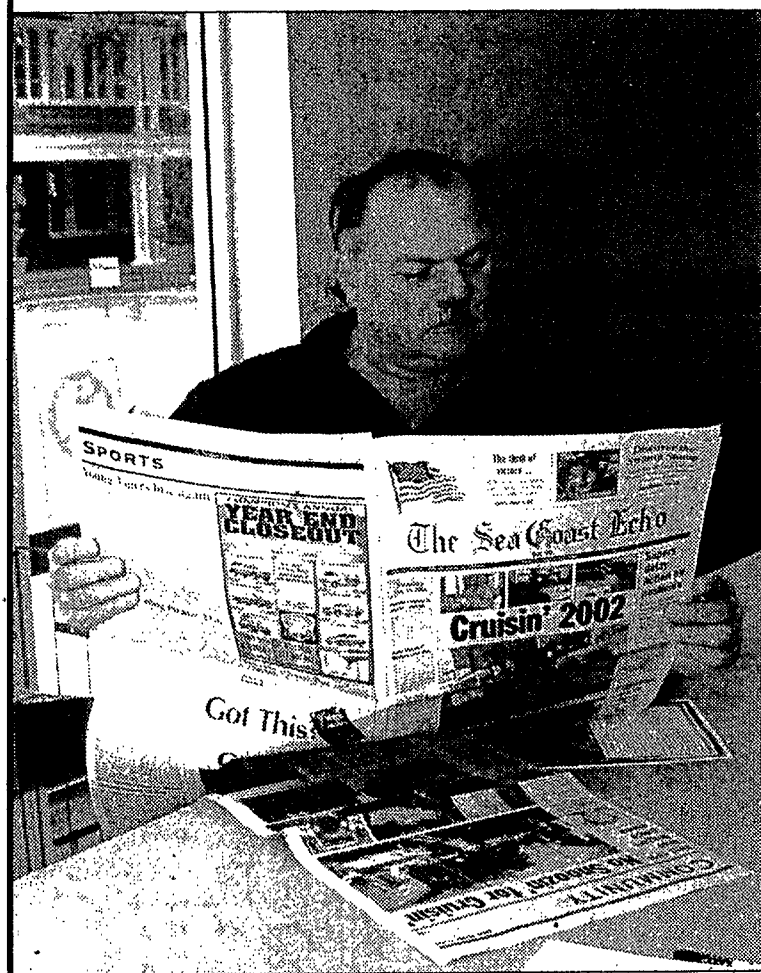

He continued, "It will be very interesting to see how all these artists working in such a variety of mediums respond to the phoenix theme. Everyone's going to have a completely different interpretation on the same subject matter. It's going to make for a great show."

"Phoenix from the Fire" will open November 9th and run through December 10th. The artists' reception will be held on the evening of the 9th from 5-8 p.m. Many of the artists will be on hand to discuss their work and explain techniques. The evening will include live music and refreshments. Quarter Moon Gallery is located in Old Town Bay St. Louis, at 146 Main Street, next to the courthouse. For further information, contact Pat Saik, gallery manager at 228.467.7279.

Over $14 million approved for disaster assistance

A Disaster Recovery Center (DRC) is open in Hancock County in Waveland, at 304 Hwy. 90, near Kmart at the intersection of Highways 90 and 603.

That DRC is set to close Friday, Nov. 8 at 6 p.m. To date, 788 persons have visited the Waveland DRC and 1,736 persons have visited all the DRCs while they were open.

Over $5 million in federal, state and local funds have been obligated for public assistance projects to help the state and local governments pay for cleaning up debris, emergency work and for damages to roads, bridges and other public facilities.

President Bush declared a Major Disaster on October 1, 2002 and since then, over 4,000 residents in seven Mississippi counties have called the FEMA toll-free hotline 1-800-621-FEMA (3362) to register for assistance.

• $2.8 million has been approved for assistance with temporary housing and minor home repairs. Thus far, $2.6 million has actually been disbursed to 1,856 applicants.

• $2.6 million for 692 Mississippians has been approved for the Individual and Family Grant (IFG) Program, administered by the state. $413, 643 has actually been disbursed to date. These grants may be used to cover serious disaster-related expenses not covered by insurance or other programs.

• $3.9 million has been approved by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) for 165 low-interest disaster loans for homeowners, renters and businesses. Disaster home loans account for almost $3.2 million, business loans, $401,400 and economic injury loans totaled $308,800.

Individuals may register for disaster assistance before the Nov. 30 deadline by calling FEMA's toll-free registration line at 1-800-621-FEMA (3362), or TDD 1-800-462-7585 for the hearing or speech impaired.

Most assistance offered under government programs covers basic needs only and will not compensate individuals for their entire loss.

As of Oct. 31, Hancock County had 1,356 applicants with $188,468 IFG grants disbursed and $1,474,092 in housing funds approved.

Seal said he plans to work closely with Lennette Nacaise, who has served for 18 years as the District 5 member, during the transition and in the future.

"My intentions are to keep the public apprised about pending actions of the school board and the spending of tax dollars," Seal said. "I am a strong believer in the Mississippi Open Meeting Law and the Mississippi Open Records Act. I believe public officials should be accountable to the public."

Seal also thanked his supporters and "Chuck Clark for a clean race."

For District 3, the unopposed Morgan P. Ladner received 1,357 votes.

"I'm grateful for the opportunity to help make a difference," Ladner said. "I believe that quality education is the most important issue we face at the moment. We, as a board, must endeavor to set policy for an effective and efficient educational program. In order to achieve this, we need to involve our parents, business and industry and our community as a whole."

Ladner said he looks forward to working with the superintendent, the administrators, teachers, parents and students to continue improving the quality of education.

Hancock County residents voted as follows in other elections:

- United States Senate: Thad Cochran, 6,988; Shawn O'Hara, 1,146

A Nov. 19 runoff will be held between incumbent Wes Teel and Jim Persons for the Place 1 judgeship.

The Place 2 positions will remain with incumbent Judge Margaret Alfonso.

"I wish to express my heartfelt appreciation to the voters of Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties," Alfonso said. "It has been an honor and privilege to serve our community for the past four years as Chancery Court Judge, Place 2. people to work together."

As the race stands now, Longo has avoided a runoff with 52 percent of the vote and should be able to go straight to the general election to face Republican challenger Jay Fountain and Independent W.E. "Bill" Cross.

Fountain defeated his opponent "Wild Bill" Lapime by 174-67 to earn the Republican nomination. "It doesn't bother me," Lapime said of his loss to Fountain Tuesday. "I had fun."

Also on Tuesday, Democratic candidate for Ward 1 alderman Keith Mitchell defeated the incumbent Milton Bernard by 257-122.

"I'm ecstatic about the outcome," Mitchell said.

"But this was phase one. Now it's just time to buckle down and get ready for the general election."

Mitchell will face Republican candidate George E. Yarbrough on Dec. 3. Yarbrough ran unopposed in Tuesday's primary.

In Ward 2, incumbent Alderman Ricky Geoffrey defeated Barry Richardson 191-94 to win the Democratic nomination. Geoffrey is now expected to face Republican Jay Trapani, who was unopposed Tuesday.

A runoff is expected Nov. 19 in the Democratic nomination for Smolensky's vacated Ward 3 alderman's seat. Brian Schmitt earned 141 votes Tuesday; Clarence Harris, 102; and Ralph West, 64. The winner of the runoff will oppose

Republican Scott Blackwell.

There is also a Democratic runoff expected in Ward 4, where incumbent Charles Piazza earned 117 votes Tuesday to challenger Santo A. Saucier Jr.'s 101; and David Yarbrough's 81.

However, none of the totals from Tuesday's Waveland city elections are yet official.

City clerk Lisa Planchard said yesterday that it may be Friday before several hundred affidavit ballots are verified and added to the current totals.

Those ballots are question in large part due to the recent redistricting, Planchard said, and "a lot of people (who voted) are not showing up as registered at all."

Casino -- Bayou Caddy

plans to begin work, hopefully in January, on a 120-to-150-room hotel which will be connected to the boat. McCarlie said the project had a projected opening date of September 2003.

"We are really excited about recent progress and want to thank the county for their support and their patience," said McCarlie.

Planners have persisted despite years of problems in getting the project off the ground.

In January of 2000 the Department of Marine Resources unanimously approved a permit to allow Phoenix Leisure to begin dredging at the Bayou Caddy site. The company planned to dredge about 6,500 cubic yards of silt that had occurred at the site in preparation for the arrival of the riverboat.

DMR said that the dredging would not create an environmental impact to vegetated wetlands. No written or oral objections to the project were received at that time.

The State Gaming Commission gave the company approval of its gaming site around the same time, but stipulated that the venture be coupled with an on-site hotel. The Commission had also raised questions about flooding problems on the beach road between Bayou Caddy and Lakeshore. At that time the Board of Supervisors passed a resolution to elevate and repair the road and install a sand beach to halt future erosion.

Local spokesman for the company Clifford McCarlie said on Wednesday that Phoenix Leisure has obtained all needed permits and could technically begin work on the project tomorrow.

McCarlie cited a downturn in the financial climate as one reason for the holdup in obtaining financing for the Bayou Caddy project. Financing for a large project was difficult for a time, said McCarlie, lenders saw the market as saturated for this type of venture.

Phoenix Leisure has spent the past two years getting more experience under its belt by opening four licensed mini-casinos in Washington state. McCarlie estimates that costs for the Bayou Caddy project will be around $25 million.

Charo 'cuchi-chuchis' her way to Casino Magic

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The original "Cuchi-Cuchi" girl, Charo, will make a stop at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23 at 9 p.m. each night.

Tickets are $14.95, $19.95 and $24.95 and are available at the Casino Magic Box Office by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or at any Ticketmaster location.

Only a few multi-talented people are recognized with just one name and bring a smile to your face when that name is mentioned.

Charo is one of those few. Everything Latin is in right now, and that includes Charo, the original "Cuchi-Cuchi" girl.

The performer recently returned to the limelight following more than a decade of self-imposed exile in Hawaii to raise her son Shel with husband Kjell Rasten.

While in Hawaii, Charo and Rasten ran a Mexican restaurant, and Charo entertained at clubs around the island until the Hilton Hawaiian Village built her a showroom. She entertained international audiences every night while playing mamamita during the day.

Now, Charo tours around the world, from Europe to Latin America to Asia. She also continues to appear in Las Vegas, Atlantic City, Reno and around the United States.

Born Maria Rosario Pilar Martinez Molina Barza in Murica, Spain, she was nicknamed Charo as a child.

Attending school at the Catholic convent of the Sacred Heart, Charo began playing guitar at the age of nine. Those who only know the "Cuchi-Cuchi" side of Charo will be surprised to learn that as a child she studied with Andres Segovia, the father of modern classical guitar music.

As a teenager in Madrid, she recorded albums, debuted on film in the Spanish classic "Don Juan Tenorio" and was featured in a TV show similar to "Sesame Street."

her on the television show, he decided she was what his orchestra needed. She joined his band and later went out on her own as a solo performer at the age of 19.

She has earned the prestigious Golden Eagle Award as Outstanding Entertainer of the Year by Nosotros, the leading Hispanic arts organization, an award also won by Gloria Estefan and Carlos Santana.

She has also received the Distinguished Career Award from Hispanic Exhibitor and Distributor. She was the winner of Guitar Player magazine's Readers Poll as Best Flamenco Guitarist two years in a row, and most recently released two albums, "Guitar Passion," showing off her guitar skills and "Gusto," her first dance album since the disco era.

She has appeared on American television as Aunt Charo in the sitcom "Chico and the Man," has been featured on more episodes of "The Love Boat" than anyone else, and made guest appearances on "Laugh In," "The Carol Burnett Show," "The Late Show with David Letterman," and "The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson."

Presently, she has been starring in "Bravo" at The Sahara Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas and will bring the same type of variety show to Casino Magic Bay St. Louis. Must be 21 to attend.

Red Giant, Delta Fire a winning combo

SOUTHERN GARDENING
BY NORMAN WINTER
MSU Horticulturist
Central Mississippi
Research & Extension
Center

Fall and winter gardens need color to liven up landscapes, and local garden centers are loaded with great new selections that will do just that.

If you haven't tried Redbor kale or Red Giant mustard, then you have missed some of the best. Look also for new pansies like Ultima Apricot Shades or Delta Fire.

Redbor kale is a large selection producing wavy, deep burgundy leaves. Red Giant mustard produces foliage in burgundy and green that is beautiful and edible.

Now is the ideal time to get them planted while it is cool but not freezing. This gives them time to get acclimated to your garden so they can put on their show from now through spring. Once acclimated to cool weather, kale and cabbage can withstand temperatures in the mid-teens. The Chicago Botanic Garden has actually seen them survive minus 10 degrees.

Select a site in full sun with fertile, organic-rich soil. If the planting area has tight, heavy clay, amend with compost or humus to loosen.

While preparing the soil, incorporate two pounds of a slow-release, 12-6-6-fertilizer with minor nutrients per 100 square feet.

Set out nursery-grown transplants in the fall 12 to 18 inches apart and add a layer of mulch. In northern regions, they also can be planted in early spring.

Keep kale, cabbage or mustard growing vigorously with supplemental water during dry, cold periods and light applications of the fertilizer every four to six weeks.

Should abnormally cold weather be forecast, completely cover with a layer of pine straw and remove once temperatures have moderated.

The real enemy of flowering kale is warm, fall weather followed by horrific cold. Cabbage loopers also can be a problem, but these are easily controlled with the organic insecticide Bt, or Bacillus thuringiensis.

Both the mustard and Redbor kale, which also comes in a white selection called Winterbor, offer a lot of choices for companion plants.

For a recent "Southern Gardening" TV segment, we combined the Redbor with the hot new Ultima Apricot

Gone to the Dogs (and Cats)

Part of S. Anne Lynch's collection of animals, hand-painted for Serenity. Natural river rocks are transformed into especially appealing three-dimensional art forms.

Second Saturday 'goes to the dogs' with world-renowned Anne Lynch's works

THE SEA COAST ECHO

On Second Saturday, animal lovers will have the opportunity to meet Anne Lynch, creator of cat and dog rocks formerly at Gump's in San Francisco, Harrods of London and Neimann Marcus stores.

From 5 p.m. until 8 p.m., Lynch will welcome admirers at this special showing at Serenity Gallery in Bay St. Louis, where her animal rocks are exclusively shown now.

For over 20 years, she has satisfied pet lovers with portraits of their beloved animals on natural river rocks.

Lynch remembers that exact moment that gave her career a new direction. She was painting in her Dallas studio in the company of her cat.

Nearby was a rock she had found earlier and carried home. Suddenly, she recalled, "I looked at the cat and looked at the rock and put them together."

As with any good idea, there was a period of experimentation to get the look that she desired for her new creation. Once settled upon, she was on her way.

'Swamp Things' on display in the Bay

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Two local artists have joined to present a showing of paintings featuring the magic and the mystery of the swamp around us.

Moss draped trees, Cajun cottages and critters of all sorts inhabit the paintings of Shirley Cameron and Paula Leoni.

Shirley Cameron is a newcomer onto the Bay St. Louis art scene, but her unique vibrant work is quickly gaining notice. A native of Massachusetts, Cameron moved to warmer climes after receiving a master's degree in liberal arts. Many of her paintings reflect real adventures in the bayou country of Louisiana, while others are pure, often humorous fantasy.

Paula Leoni is well known locally for her detailed and life-like depiction of native birds. A long-time resident of Louisiana and Mississippi, Leoni spend many hours studying and observing the feathered subjects of her acrylic paintings.

Cameron and Leoni will be on hand Saturday Nov. 9 from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Loft Studios Gallery, 144 Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

It will be an evening of original art and new prints by both artists, some live swamp boogie music with Brian Ladner and Pete Leoni and maybe a few surprises.

Leoni, at Cruisin' the Coast.

1942 - Gas rationing to limit travel to 2,880 miles a year

TEN YEARS AGO

October 15, 1992 - The passenger terminal at Stennis Air Park is ready for business declared Port and Harbor director Harold "Buz" Olsen Monday. The commission was told that the airport committee toured the facility that morning, deeming the interior transformation work of the former county school district offices complete.

"We can market the facility now," Olsen stated. Olsen said the Commission is aiming for November 2 as a first flight arrival date. "One agent we have spoken with has a flight originating from Dallas ready for that day."

- In all likelihood Felicity will not be made a dead end. After an hour-long City Council workshop Tuesday with residents of Felicity and nearby streets about their concerns over possible casino traffic hazards, Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre gave a list of recommendations to avert potential problems.

Closing the street was not one of them. Felicity Street residents had asked last week that the street be closed to through traffic. Favre said the city may step up its plans to install sidewalks from North Bay Elementary School on Dunbar beyond the curve to the Melody Lane/Cornith Drive area and on Felicity from Dunbar almost to the casino access road.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

October 17, 1982 - The Hancock County Sheriff's Department is making every attempt to keep people charged with misdemeanors from being locked up in Hancock County Jail, Sheriff Roxie Peterson said Friday.

The new policy began Thursday, and Peterson noted overcrowding conditions prompted the action. On Sunday, some 48 prisoners were being held in the facility designed for 18.

Peterson told the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Thursday that prisoners had to sleep in shifts last Sunday because not enough bed space was available. Additional mattresses were laid on the floor wherever possible.

FORTY YEARS AGO

October 11, 1962 - Two Clermont Harbor men waived preliminary hearing this week before U.S. Commissioner Irene Humphreys at Biloxi on possession and operation of an unregistered still and possession of mash.

They were released on $750 property bonds for appearance before the next federal grand jury. The pair were arrested last Wednesday night by agents of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division who said they observed the pair loading and unloading supplies from a truck into a wooden frame cabin in Clermont Harbor.

Hawks in must-win contest; SSC advances to playoffs

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The regular season has come to a close for the 4A schools and only one made it to the post-season. The 5A Hancock Hawks have one final regular season game against the Oak Grove Warriors on Friday night. If they win, they will advance to the post-season the following week.

The Bay High Tigers ended their winless 2002 campaign on Friday night with a 41-9 loss to the Vancleave Bulldogs while the Pass Christian Pirates closed their 2002 gridiron schedule with a 34-6 defeat to the Gautier Gators. The St. Stanislaus ended the regular season with a 39-6 loss to the East Central Hornets and Hancock destroyed Natchez on the road 41-7.

The Tigers entered the season with a young squad and endured growing pains all season long; however, head coach Glenn Williams acknowledged the fact that the players never quit in any game this season. That is a welcoming observation for Williams and his staff as they begin preparing for the 2003 campaign in the off-season.

The Tigers jumped out early on the Bulldogs when Zack Ferry connected with Lorenzo Lewis on a 61-yard touchdown pass-catch combo on the second play of the game. The Bulldogs' punter kicked a ball out of the back of the endzone on a fourth and 23 situation later in the first half to give Bay High their last lead of the game 9-7. After that, it was all downhill for the Tigers. Bay High ended their season with a 0-10 overall record and 0-6 in the division.

The Pirates took to the road against Gautier at War Memorial Park in Pascagoula. Pass Christian took the fight to the Gators early and had a lead on Gautier before the Gators' speed became too much to handle. Chad Musgrove hauled in a 21-yard scoring pass from Robert Hargrove to give the Pirates an early lead 6-0.

The Gators ripped off 34 unanswered points to claim the win including a kickoff return for a score to open the second half of play. Pirate star running back/linebacker Maurice Hardnett was injured in the second half and was unable to return to the contest. The Pirates ended the season with a 3-7 overall record and a 1-5 division mark.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws will advance the first round of the state playoffs against South Pike in Magnolia this Friday night despite a 39-6 loss to the East Central Hornets last Friday.

This will mark the first time since 1998 that SSC has advanced to the playoffs. The Rocks have advanced to the first round twice before and both times the opponent has been the South Pike Eagles. The two previous games against the Eagles have been close with scores of 13-6 and 13-11.

The Hornets jumped out on the Rocks early in the second quarter and built a 20-0 halftime lead. The Rocks would not score until the fourth quarter when Tim Kulikowski threw a six-yard scoring strike to Michael Cure. The Hornet defense held the Rock offense to -26 yards rushing in the contest.

The Rocks ended the regular season with a 4-6 mark overall and a 3-3 record in the division.

The Hancock Hawks kept their playoff hopes alive and forced a do-or-die situation with the Oak Grove Warriors in Kiln on Friday night. Hancock must win on Friday night and Brandon must lose to Wayne County for the Hawks to advance to the state playoffs. If they advance, it will be the first time since 1993 that Hancock has made the post-season state playoffs.

The Hawks held Natchez to just 91 yards of total offense with 61 yards coming on one play. Ricky Underwood scored from one-yard out to give Hancock the lead after a fumble by Natchez on the kickoff. David Brown scored for the Hawks on their second possession with a 14-yard pass from Brandon Necaise.

Brown added another touchdown for Hancock with 4:56 left in the half on a 16-yard reverse. Following a miscue on the punt team for Natchez, Brown scored his third touchdown of the game on a 14-yard run to give Hancock a 27-0 lead at the break.

Late in the fourth quarter, Brown added his fourth score of the night from six yards out and the Hawks led 34-0. Finally, with just two minutes left to play, Myron Fairley hauled in a 29-yard pass from Necaise for the score.

The two touchdown passes give Brandon Necaise a total of 34 scoring passes in his career which is an unofficial school record.

The Hawks will host Oak Grove at "The Nest" on Friday night in a must win situation.

The Offensive Player of the Week for Week #10 is Hancock's David Brown who scored four touchdowns on 102 total yards in the win over Natchez.

The Defensive Player of the Week for Week #10 is Jarrod Barrios who recorded seven tackles and three quarterback sacks in the Hawks' 41-7 win over Natchez.

Both games are slated for 7:30pm kickoff. See you at the game!

New b-ball season looks promising

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Now that the gridiron season is pretty much behind us, it is time to start focusing on the roundball season that happens indoors - BASKETBALL!

Last season, Hancock County produced three state tournament teams in the Hancock Lady Hawks, the Bay High Lady Tigers and the St. Stanislaus boys team. If last year is any indication of the kind of basketball that we play in Hancock County, then the fans can expect more success this season.

For starters, the Lady Hawks are ranked the pre-season #1 girls team in the state while the Bay High Lady Tigers are ranked #5. On the boys side, the Rock-a-chaws are ranked #12 overall in the preseason poll while the Hancock Hawks showed tremendous strides last season and are looking for a breakthrough year in 2003.

The first stop in our preview of the 2002-03 season is in Kilm. The Lady Hawks will return all five starters from a year ago led by All-State selections Devin Necaise and Brooke Necaise. Last season, the Lady Hawks ended the year 25-11 and advanced to the state quarter-finals. Devin Necaise, a University of Memphis commitment, is one of four returning senior letter winners for Hancock. The 5-7 guard/forward averaged 14.6 ppg last season and is looking forward to a stellar senior year and a trip back to Jackson. The hard-nosed player is known for her intensity and was also being recruited by Tulane. Necaise is a 4.0 student and has scored a 19 on the ACT making her eligible to play as a freshman.

The other returning senior letter winners for the Lady Hawks are veteran forward Kayla Stephenson (5-8), center Rachel Necaise (6-0) and center Letisha Shiyon (6-1). Brooke Necaise is another star forward returning for the Lady Hawks. The 5-8 junior averaged 17.0 ppg and was named the Outstanding Player in Region 5 last season. Necaise has lettered on the varsity team since the eighth grade and covers opponents like a glove on defense.

Courtney Craft (5-5) is a returning junior guard and helps anchor the backcourt for the Lady Hawks along with 5-7 junior Amanda Arcement. Ashley Boehnel (5-9) is a sophomore forward returning for the Lady Hawks.

The boys team returns nine lettermen from a year ago when the Hawks finished 16-15 for the first winning record since 1994. Let me reassure you that there is not a typo in the preview as there nine of 12 players with the last name Ladner for the Hawks.

Cody Ladner (6-4) leads the way for the Hawks. The versatile senior plays every position on the court for Hancock. Once again, he will lead the way for coach Michael Ladner's (no kidding, he is a Ladner as well) troops. Other top seniors returning are guard Daron Boone (6-1), guard Jeremy Strief (5-11), forward Marcus Ladner (6-0), center Levi Ladner (6-1), Daron Ladner (6-1), Duon Ladner (6-1), Adrian Boone (5-11), and junior Josh Ladner (6-0).

Top newcomers for the Hawks will senior center Adam Ladner (6-7), sophomore Micah Ladner (6-1), and sophomore Braxton Rockwell (6-2).

The Bay High Lady Tigers advanced to the state title game last season and lost in the waning seconds to Jackson Province 60-58 to finish with a 27-9 overall record. Head coach Debbie Triplett returns all five of her starters from a year ago and is looking to make a run toward the postseason in 2003. Carmen Labat, 5-9 senior, leads the Lady Tigers back onto the court in 2002-03 after averaging 15.0 ppg and 4.0 rpg for Bay High. Sisters Stephanie and Kendra Reed will fill their roles as guard and forward, respectively.

Stephanie Reed, a 5-5 senior, averaged 13.0 ppg, 3.0 app, and 3.5 spg last season while sister Kendra, 5-10 sophomore, poured in 13.0 ppg and 7.0 rpg.

LaMonica James, a 6-0 senior center, averaged 7.0 rpg for Bay High in their state final year. Courtney Rieux (5-8 SR) and Felicia Thomas (5-7 JR) also return in 2002-03. Some top newcomers are guard Crystal Scretching (5-7, So), center Whitney Gladney (5-11, So), forward Destiny Porter (5-11, So), forward Sara Gilmore (5-11, So) and guard Shaunon Willis (5-7, JR).

The boys team made an appearance last season in the division semi-finals and finished with a 10-16 record. This year they have a new coach in Alan Lumpkin. The Tigers will return four lettermen from last year's squad in guard Eric Lymuel (5-11, SR), guard Marquez Singleton (6-0, JR), forward Cory Todd (6-2, JR), and guard Lorenzo Lewis (5-10, So).

Top newcomers for the Tigers are forward/guard George Easley, guard Anthony James, guard Don Coe, and forward Nathan Bradley.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws made an appearance in the state semi-finals last season and finished the season with a 31-8 overall record. Head coach Jay Ladner returns for his 12th season as the Rocks mentor and is looking to improve on last season's success.

The Rocks return a bevy of players who earned letters last season. Leading the way are senior guard Gabe Willis (5-7) who averaged 14.0 ppg, junior guard Darius Acker (5-9) 13.0 ppg, senior forward Ben Benvenuti (6-5), junior forward Robert Ray Smith (6-2), senior forward Zach Mellen (6-5), senior forward Brett Amond (6-8), junior guard Rob Murray (6-0), senior guard Sam Tart (6-1), and junior forward Mario Faranda (6-4).

Top newcomers for the Rocks this season are sophomore forward Ramsey Shawa (6-5), sophomore guard Jay Spell (6-0), senior guard Taylor Handshoe (6-0), senior forward Chad Allee (6-4), junior guard Philman Ladner (5-9), junior guard Grady Wylly (6-0), and sophomore guard Derrick Willis (5-5).

Our Lady Academy is expecting big things on the court this season after a 6-21 season showed tremendous improvement towards the end of the schedule.

Top returning letter winners are Margaret Magers (5-4, SR), Denira Dedeaux (5-5, SR), Jackie Herber (5-3, SR), Ashton Johnson (5-8, SR), Vada McNally (5-9, JR), Nikki Lewis (5-4, SR), and Whitney Lyons (5-8, FR).

The Pass Christian Pirates lost two stars in the backcourt but return a host a letter winners from a team that posted a 25-7 overall record in 2002.

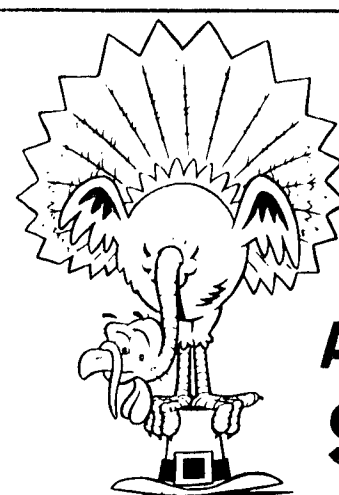

Returning players are guard Rueben Nichols (5-11, SR), center Garland

Stewart (6-6, SR), forward Maurice Hardnett (6-1, SR), forward Chad Musgrove (6-3, JR), guard Troy White (5-8, SR), guard Calvin Lang (5-11, JR), guard Billy Crawford (6-1, JR), guard John Childs (6-0, JR), guard Roscoe Forch (5-8, JR), forward Tony Henderson (6-1, JR), and forward Jeff Hilliard (5-11, JR).

Top newcomers for the Pirates are center Brock Hayden (6-1, JR), guard Shun Parker (5-11, JR), guard Danny Bernard (5-8, SR), guard Darnell Swain (5-8, SR), guard Nick Sellier (5-10, So), forward Brandon Miller (6-3, So), guard Charles Woods (5-11, So), and guard Perry Williams (5-9, So).

The Lady Pirates tallied a 2002 record of 14-17 overall and are looking to improve on that mark. The Lady Pirates have four seniors returning from last season in Charlela Meloncon (5-4, G), Sabrina Dailey (5-7, F), Deanna Ladner (5-11, C), and Vincea Lizana (5-11, C). Juniors are guard Kenyatta Woods (5-4), and Teena Martin (5-11).

Top newcomers for Pass Christian are guard Tomeaka Fields (5-2), guard Tori Terrell (5-3), center Kellie Martin (5-11), guard Ishanti Saucier, forward Jessica Rush (5-7), Kabrina Hardnett (5-1), forward Shaleena Dailey (5-5), guard Kate Hunt (5-4), and center Rikeisha Dedeaux (5-9).

Time -- gas rationing

Renovation on the former creamery building located on Necaise Avenue is near completion. It will house the offices of the County Agent, P.M.A., Soil Conservation, FHA and County Welfare Department.

This is quite an improvement over the building that was just standing there idle and going wreck. The various departments expect to move within the next two weeks.

- Colonel T.B. Birdsong,

Commissioner of Public Safety, stated today, "We just completed a special training course for 20 or more officers in working of an operating the Radar Speedmeters. These men were trained by specialists at Keesler Field. We have been warning the public with one of these machines for approximately 18 months. Over 25,000 persons have been checked by this machine and warned about speeding. Beginning November 1, citations will be issued."

SIXTY YEARS AGO
October 16, 1942 - Gas rationing to be put into effect November 22nd. Merging of the gasoline and tire rationing programs into a single system to control mileage of the nation's passenger autos according to essentiality of use was recently announced by Price Administrator Leon Henderson to become effective tive throughout the country on November 22nd.

The rationing of gas will follow a plan now in operation that will allow a family enough gas to travel 2,880 miles of family necessities and occupational use for a year. Additional gasoline will be allowed only on proof of need and in quantities strictly limited to the degree of essentiality to the nation's war efforts.

Garden -- giant, fire

Shades pansy and Ice Follies daffodil Ultima Apricot Shades produces flowers that are creamy with blushes of burgundy and rose.

Snapdragons also would work well, and the new dwarf series Montego may be the best. Montegos come in several colors and are actually smaller than the kale. If you want a taller selection, then try the Ribbons or the Sonnets.

For another "Southern Gardening" segment, we used the Red Giant mustard with the new Delta Fire pansy and Tahiti daffodil.

Delta Fire pansies have flowers that are brilliant yellow with shades of burgundy to rust. Yellow Sonnet or Liberty snapdragons offer great opportunities for combination plantings.

Ornamental grasses and fall chrysanthemums also make great companion plants. Try the kalé with purple fountain grass, dwarf pampas or the dwarf fountain grass variety Hameln. Yellow Jacket chrysanthemums would be exceptional with the Red Giant mustard.

Shop now while selections are greatest and temperatures are moderate. The winter landscape doesn't have to be dreary. Redbor kale, Red Giant mustard and pansies like Ultima by and meet these talented local artists and enjoy an iced coffee or a steaming hot cup of coffee or tea while you nibble on home-baked scones, muffins or cake.

Apricot Shades or Delta

Fire are just a few of the great choices waiting for you.

THE PURPLE SNAPPER GALLERY, 121 Main Street. Phyllis "Dusty" Shaw, one of our new artists will be featured during the Artwalk. Working primarily in oils and pastels, she is an artist of people and for people. She has shown her work throughout the South and Southwest for a number of years. Her portfolio includes commissions done for such well-known entertainers as Buddy Hackett and Paula Abdul. Dusty is also an accomplished singer/songwriter and has performed throughout the South. Join us for an exciting Second Saturday.

Rocks

Since then she has painted thousands of animal rocks for collectors all over the States and internationally.

"There is hardly an animal I haven't done, but people know me best for my cat rocks," she says.

Gallery owner Jerry Dixon is a devotee of her creations as is Alice Moseley, who says the rock portrait of her dog Herman is the very best Christmas present she has ever received.

"Serenity Gallery is ... grateful that Anne decided to make her home on the Gulf Coast and shares her talent with us," says Dixon.

Great pumpkins

The Waveland Elementary School students of Olive McKenna's kindergarten class had a great treat Monday. John Rubino, grandfather of Kasin Arvonen, flew in from California for a visit and came to Waveland Elementary School to show his artistic approach to carving pumpkins. The results were amazing. The whole process was accomplished by sculpturing. Mr. Rubino had carved pumpkins for his daughter's class when she was in kindergarten and wanted to do the same thing for his grandson. The creations were entertaining and enjoyed by everyone.

Jews for Jesus gospel concert

The public is invited Sunday, Nov. 10 at 6:30 p.m. to the Lutheran Church of the Pines for a "Jews for Jesus" Gospel presentation.

This unique "Jewish gospel" is a genre of music that is unfamiliar to most people. It borrows from both the Jewish and the gospel idioms, yet it is a sound all its own.

There is that "Fiddler on the Roof" and "old time religion" sound and feel to the music. The themes are of heaven, forgiveness, redemption and personal peace.

Susan Mendelson is an accomplished singer, songwriter and evangelist for Jesus. She was graduated from the Crane School of Music at the State University of New York and pursued a career in country music.

In 1990 she came to faith in Jesus as her Messiah, and in 1992 joined "Jews for Jesus" traveling music team, "The Liberated Walling Wall."

As music director of the team, she toured the U.S. 18 months singing Jewish Gospel music, evangelizing, handing out tracts, on street corners and creating many of the vocal arrangements for the team's album, "David's Hope."

Mendelson is presently touring solo in local area churches as part of her U.S. tour. This is an opportunity for those who are interested in the "Jews for Jesus" movement to learn first hand through witness and song what this mission encompasses.

The Lutheran Church of the Pines is located in Waveland on Highway 90 across from Kmart.

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

TOPS 233 WAVELAND

TOPS 233 Waveland met Tuesday, Nov. 5 at the Waveland Methodist Church corner of Vacation Lane and Central Avenue.

Wenda was the best loser for the week with 3 pounds. KOPS best loser was Rose. The gift was won by Shirley, but donated it back to the club. The Incentive Award was won by Shirley.

A program was presented by Wenda about poultry.

TOPS 233 meets every Tuesday at the Waveland Methodist Church. Weigh-ins are 5-6 p.m. with the meeting following. Anyone interested in losing weight the sensible way and maintaining that weight loss is welcomed to visit.

For information, call Wenda at 467-1695.
